Wear clothes and shoes that can get wet or dirty!

Friday, August 2 Explore the wetlands and forests behind the Hayward Library with a Museum Naturalist. Get wet and muddy as you search for frogs and water bugs, learn about wetlands, and have lots of fun!

Friday, August 9 Make a nature-inspired craft to take home! A Museum Naturalist will help you collect flowers and leaves as you explore the gardens and forest behind the Hayward Library. Then, use what you found to create a beautiful nature print using simple materials. Our projects will make great gifts for friends or family!

Friday, August 16 Beetles, moths, and butterflies! The flowers behind the Hayward Library are teeming with native pollinators—what kinds will you discover? Investigate the world of insect pollinators as you get up close and safely explore with a Museum Naturalist.

Friday, August 23 Re-explore the wetlands and forests behind the Hayward Library with a Museum Naturalist. Get wet and muddy as you check on the changes that have happened with all the critters in just a few weeks!
